On the network,
the strong become stronger.

THE US ARMY'S FUTURE COMBAT SYSTEMS. It's the foundation of the Future Force. By creating fully-networked systems that are interoperable with joint and allied forces, FCS-equipped Units of Action will be stronger, faster, more agile and more effective. The best-of-industry FCS One Team is making this vision a reality, delivering on all program requirements to give the warfighter unrivaled strength in any battlespace.

This ad, for Boeing Integrated Defense Systems, positions Future Combat Systems as a vital transformational program for the U.S. Army. As the first ad in a new campaign targeted to a Congressional and customer audience, it highlights the critical benefit of the network to the individual warfighter and communicates that FCS is on track for successful development and deployment. The campaign will appear throughout the year in key defense trades and publications in Washington, D.C.
